

PROPOSED IRG-LAW PORTAL

A Growth Solution for Law Professionals while offering a unique hedge for affordable legal services

Indian Lexsphere

- Massive Legal Workforce: 2+ million advocates, with 80,000 new law graduates annually
 - Broad Specializations & Services: constitutional to corporate law, providing services from drafting and court representation to legal counseling and mediation
 - Regulated and Supported by Bar Councils: Setting minimum fees and ensuring standards for professional integrity
 - Vast network serving justice: India's legal structure includes the Supreme Court, 25 High Courts, 688 District Courts, 20,000 trial courts, 19 tribunals, and countless quasi-judicial posts
- Intricate and demanding legal web: Over 891 central laws and 1,000+ state laws, countless rules, notifications, amendments, and case laws
 - Massive case burden: SC: 80k; HC 62 lakh, DCs & lower courts: 450 lakh; 14.5 lakh new cases added every month

India's legal sector is poised for transformation—empowering advocates, streamlining processes, and meeting growing client demands with innovation

Indian Lexsphere – Issues

- Ranking of Advocates difficult – success the only criteria
- From elite law firms and top advocates to solo practitioners, income distribution is vastly uneven across the legal profession
- Standalone lawyers face hurdles with scattered court locations, limited resources, and knowledge constraints
- New entrants face an uphill battle to establish independent practices, often opting for corporate jobs

- Businesses prefer law firms offering a wide range of services
- Barriers for Clients: High costs and lengthy processes deter clients, making litigation unaffordable and daunting for many
- Many clients feel lost or uncertain when selecting suitable advocates, despite the rise of legal portals and apps

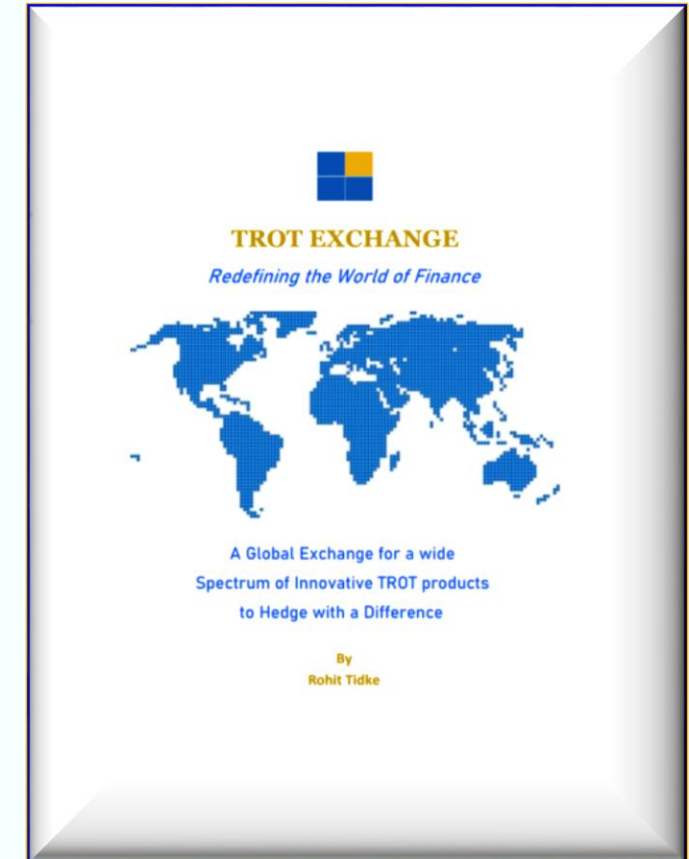

The Solution – IRG-LAW FTRs

Innovative Solution for Professional Growth

- IRG-LAW FTR Units: A revolutionary initiative in India's legal sphere, IRG-LAW FTR units generated and sold by vetted advocates and law firms
